

Corporate membership

Sacred Fire Productions is a not-for-profit Indigenous cultural organization founded in 2012 with the mission to promote Indigenous art, artists and cultures as a means of cultural, social and economic reconciliation. In 2015, Sacred Fire Productions created the Ashukan Cultural Space, a cultural incubator located in the heart of Old Montréal which provides exhibition, sales and professional development space to some one hundred artists. Using art and culture as the primary vehicles, this space builds bridges between indigenous and non-indigenous peoples to create an inclusive world.

Art and appreciation for Indigenous cultures can engage your employees, business contacts and external partners. By joining our corporate program and introducing them to Indigenous cultures and community values, you can enhance your corporate culture while supporting the process of reconciliation.

Benefits of the corporate program

Activity	Frequency	Details
Cultural awareness workshop	Once a year Presentation for 20-75 people	Understanding history, territory and indigenous identity to promote inclusion... a step towards reconciliation Objectives: 1. Promote the understanding of Indigenous history in the contemporary context. 2. Let go of prejudices and stereotypes. 3. Build bridges between Indigenous and non-Indigenous people. Duration: 1 hour Topics covered: Land recognition, cultural protocols, historical overview - colonization and its impact, Indigenous versus Western worldview, reconciliation, conversations - dialogue
Indigenous art exhibition vernissage	4 times a year Valid for 6 people	Vernissage, networking and exchanging with artists and cultural leaders
Annual benefit event	Valid for 6 people	Networking and discovery event bringing together Indigenous artists and the business community
Artwork loan	Once a year Duration: 6 months	Loan of an Indigenous artwork of your choice, for display in your offices

Annual cost: $5,000 with the option for a multi-year commitment

For information regarding corporate program membership, please contact:

Nadine St-Louis

Founder and Executive Director

514-933-4507 | nadine@productionsfeuxsacres.ca